

Continuing Education Credits

Best Practices Guide

Continuing Education Unit (CEU)

Continuing Education Units (CEUs) earned through NSGC-approved educational opportunities will be accepted by the American Board of Genetic Counseling for purposes of Genetic Counselor recertification.

- LabRoots works with the NSGC to provide Category 1 CEUs. The NSGC grants a CEU for all educational programs with content targeted specifically to genetic counselors (10 hours of presentation are equivalent to 1 Category 1 CEU)
- A Certified Genetic Counselor (CGC®) must be involved in the program planning as either a member of the program planning committee or as a consultant.
- LabRoots is required to ensure that all speakers comply with conflict of interest standards:
  - Presenters must provide verbal and written disclosures to attendees (conflicts of interest disclosure on slides is required) regarding any actual, potential or perceived conflicts of interest, and include the nature of the relationship.
  - Conflict of Interest attestations must be collected from each presenter, evaluated by the Program Planner
  - Generic names should be used during all educational activities. Specific products or commercial entities should neither be promoted nor disparaged.
  - Branded slide templates or logos cannot be used by any presenter
- Following the CEU approved presentation, an attendee will be required to take a quiz of the presentation and pass it (pass no fail), as well as fill out an evaluation and submit a $25 fee, to receive their CEU certificate. These certificates are processed and provided by the NSGC
- A CEU credit is available during the presentations enduring (On-Demand) period and expire after 2 years from the date of the live broadcast.
